Effective date	April 2018

Purpose:

This Statute has been developed to ensure that appropriate decision-making authority is in place for Council and the Vice-Chancellor to act urgently in emergency situations.

Policy:

The University Council delegates authority to the Vice-Chancellor to take all steps necessary to protect life, prevent or limit further injury, prevent or limit harm to the environment and University infrastructure and assets, and to protect the University's core business of teaching and research in the lead up to, during and directly after an emergency event.

During an emergency event, the Vice-Chancellor may sub-delegate this authority to appropriate responders and teams, as detailed in the Emergency Management Policy.

Where a pandemic, natural disaster, fire, or other emergency event occurs, the University Council, upon the advice of the Vice-Chancellor may, for such a period and on such terms as it thinks fit to accommodate the emergency, grant waivers to any student or group of students, or suspend the application of all or any part of any University Regulation or Statute, or close the University.

If the University Council cannot meet, the Vice-Chancellor is authorised to act independently and report his/her actions back to the Council as soon as practicable for review of the actions taken. Any decision made under this Statute shall be of immediate and continuing effect, but shall be subject to review by the Council.

Any directions given by a responding agency such as the NZ Police, or the National CDEM Controller or a CDEM Group or Local CDEM Controller during a declared state of emergency, take precedence over those of the Council and/or the Vice-Chancellor, or delegate.
